

Long Way Home

©2009 Words and Music by Paul Marino and Shannon Perry

You've waited all these years
You've prayed every prayer you know
But sometimes things don't always go the way you planned
You keep moving on
Hoping that they'll come along
Just when you feel like you can't take it anymore
It comes crashing through the door

Sometimes love takes the long way home
Sometimes dreams they wait forever before they finally come
Hold on, you are not alone
'Cause sometimes love takes the long way home.

You wish for better days
When all your tears will fall away
And you finally meet that moment when you see their face
And you embrace

Sometimes love takes the long way home
Sometimes dreams they wait forever before they finally come
Hold on, you are not alone
'Cause sometimes love takes the long way home.

Don't give up
Never let your heart tell you not to believe
Just keep the faith
That somewhere down the road you will see.

Sometimes love takes the long way home
Sometimes dreams they wait forever before they finally come
Hold on, you are not alone
'Cause sometimes love takes the long way home.
